The image shows a web-based drawing application interface. At the top, there's a header bar with back, forward, and search buttons, and a URL field containing "http://". On the right side of the header is a menu icon.

The main area contains several components:

- Tools: A vertical sidebar on the left lists various tools: Tools (all windows are draggable), Pencil, Eraser, Select, Paint Bucket, Color Dropper, Shapes, Lines, and Text?.
- Tool settings: Below the Tools sidebar is a row of buttons labeled "Tool settings", "setting1", and "setting2".
- Canvas: In the center, the text "Canvas will be a grid" is displayed.
- Color picker: A window titled "Color picker/" is located in the top right corner.
- Layers: A window titled "Layers" is located below the canvas.
- Preview: A window titled "Preview" is located to the right of the Layers window.
- Static Content: At the bottom right, the text "(these are static)" is followed by three empty square boxes.
- Helpful info: A footer bar at the very bottom contains the text "Helpful info on the selected tool goes here (static)".
- Bottom navigation: At the very bottom right are three buttons labeled "Hotkeys", "Help", and "Settings".

Hello Marco
Marco says:
Hi Paolo, how are you?
Paolo says:
Fine thanks, just testing the Smartflexible Flex controls.
They are nice bie!
Marco says:
Yeah, you can create a full multi user application in a bunch of minutes.
How to go now, tyel
